

GOVERNMENT

The army has had a major influence on the history of the country. In 1968 a coup d'état was committed and the military remained in power until 1980. In 1992 a general was deposed, so peace with the nomads could be signed.

The Government is trying to keep the country together. The Government fights against the fractions of the nomads who want to separate.

In addition they must defend themselves against the attacks of the religious fundamentalists.

The Government of Bambilia wants:

- Peace and stability in the country;
- A dialogue between the various parties;
- Free and honest elections in July 2016;
- Their authority in the whole of the country to be restored, including the mountainous regions;
- An improvement of the investment climate through tax reduction for investors.
